

ARIS Jackson was my inspiration for Pixie Planet. In fact, the photograph in The Rolling Stone was where I adopted the image from. Paris' interview was candid and heartbreaking, because she'd lost her father. She said something that touched me deeply. Since that time, she's become a green America activist, and of course, a singer / artist. When I came up with the concept, I wrote her manager, and sent cartoons. He didn't tell me to stop, or threaten to sue me, so I continued. There are it many cartoons of Pixie Planet in my collection, and three out of 10 of them dissapear, after I mail them (like my entire Rocky River Band 2016-2018 has) so, it must mean they're good.

So I've decided to bring back Pixie Planet, and even take her on the road, with The GWOAT to promote the "Sunshine Valley Greenbelt" and her usual earth saving antics.

Its not easy. But shes smart, and powerful.
The Cartoon Party is capable of Anything!
which means in a virtual world you dont have to deal with greedy liars who dont care, or old people, who wont change!
Or do you? If so, the GWOAT and Pixie Planet are sure to win!

Life is too short to waste it all in rhetorical sophistry, while liars win. So far for the course, 'The Cartoon Party can blaze a trail!
One that blooms gardens behind it, of course!

P.S. Today is her 7th Anniversary!

The Common Ground Cafe

(It's about a love that makes it to the end of our fragile existence)

① The kids are grown
And were all alone
In this old house
It's mighty quiet
In this big living room
I wanna say all the things
I thought I'd save until today
Cause I love you
But the words don't seem
To come out right
Till we're underneath
The candlelight
And the food is on the plate
Where the waitress knows us Both by name
And she knows just what We'll have today
With a big smile on her face
At the Common Ground Cafe

② Time ain't always on our side
So what's a man to do I'll live and learn
And do the best he can
I know I tried to satisfy you
Every way I knew Because I wanted to Now the house of dreams
Is up for sale
And if those four walls
Could tell a tale
And the world could read along
About a woman and a man
With a master plan
Rode a river of dreams
Till they reached dry land
And all that's left today
Is the Common Ground Cafe

③

I never thought that the lord would take you from my side
But every lifetime
must come to an end
I know you'd think it's crazy
But I still wear my wedding band
Because I miss you
And a pretty young lady named Lindy Blue
With a pony tail
And a heart tattoo
Still brings your apple pie
And sometimes in that empty chair
I could swear I feel your presence there Then everything's okay
At The Common Ground Cafe
